WINE + HOCKEY + GIVING

“We love hockey as much as many in the hockey world love great wine.

We also love combining our passions in business with friends and family, which has led us to become the Official Wine of the NHL. With a portion of the proceeds donated to various charities supported by the NHL, this collaboration gets even better. We are committed to making the finest wines and partnering with the greatest organizations, and also to giving back to our communities across the continent.”
